Mail Openings Cost CIA $4,000 More

NEW YORK (UPI) — The CIA must pay $4,000 in damages to three persons whose mail it opened.

U.S. District Court Judge Jack B. Weinstein, calling the mail openings "dispicable," Friday awarded $2,000 to lecturer-writer Corliss Lamont III, 76, and $1,000 each to Victoria Wilson, 28, an editor at Knopf Publishing Co., and Rodney Driver, a mathematics professor at the University of Rhode Island.
